

GREATER PINELLAS POINT LATERAL LINE REHABILITATION PROJECT

WHAT IS A LATERAL LINE?

A lateral line is a pipe that connects your home to the City's sewer system. Lateral lines are private property and their maintenance is the responsibility of the property owner.

THE PROBLEM

Did you know your lateral lines could be contributing to sewer overflows and backups in your neighborhood? Lateral lines in Greater Pinellas Point have been identified to be susceptible to inflow and infiltration by unwanted stormwater and groundwater, especially during heavy rain events. Inflow and infiltration can enter the system from yards, roof and footing drains, cross-connections with storm drains, downspouts, holes in manhole covers or holes, line breaks, joint and connection failures and other openings. This additional water in the system increases the risk of sewer overflows and puts a strain on the system as a whole.

THE SOLUTION

The City of St. Petersburg is making investments in the infrastructure of Greater Pinellas Point. Starting April 2019, the City is working on a pilot study to determine the effectiveness of private lateral rehabilitations.

The project will include the study and inspection of lateral lines and the City will provide funding to property owners for the rehabilitation of their private lateral lines. Property owners have the opportunity to take advantage of this temporary funding and contribute to the infrastructure improvements and environmental stewardship in St. Pete. This is a temporary offering and funding will not be available after the project is completed.
